

TRAVELS TO DENVER TO PRESENT CLAIM TOPART OF FORTUNE

Former Government Clerk Is
Heir to E. Manuel
Axson.

Richard T. Way, heir of E. Manuel Axson, former government clerk and attorney, relative of Senator Bacon of Georgia, and at present in the employ of the Southern railway, left Washington today on a tour of Southern cities for the railway company. As soon as this business trip is completed, Mr. Way will go to Denver to make claim to the Axson fortune in behalf of himself and surviving brothers and sisters.

It developed today that the Axson fortune is being held by the probate courts of Denver, pending the appearance of a lawful claimant. Richard Way will represent his two brothers and sister in his appearance in the Denver courts. When E. Manuel Axson died in Denver, in 1882, the fortune was a modest one, consisting of $5,000 in cash and a good deal of land, valued at several thousand dollars. Since then this land has increased in value to a wonderful extent, and the $5,000 has been drawing interest steadily until the whole is now valued at considerably more than $500,000.

E. Manuel Axson died intestate. His only relative was a brother who settled in Georgia. This brother was Jacob Samuel Axson, soldier of the revolution and grandfather of Richard T. Way. Jacob Axson, it was learned today, married a Miss Dix, half sister to the mother of Senator Bacon, of Georgia. Senator Bacon's mother died at the time of his birth, and he was raised by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Axson. The only issue of the Axson marriage was a daughter, Olivia Tookerman Axson. She married Dr. Samuel Way, in 1838. There were eleven children, four of whom are living. They are Richard T. Way, Samuel A. Way, Walter A. Way, and Mrs. Annie Hurd.

Longevity has marked each succeeding generation of the Axson family. Both of the original Axson brothers were nearly one hundred when they died. Mrs. Olivia Tookerman Axson Way, first cousin and foster-sister to Senator Bacon, died at the age of ninety-six in Atlanta, Ga., in 1902. The family was land poor following the civil war, and lost through squatter usurpation a grant of 20,000 fertile acres on Milk Creek mountain, given to Mrs. Jacob Axson in recognition of her husband's service in the war of the revolution. Richard T. Way, youngest of the heirs, is forty-four and looks young, in view of the fact that he has but recently recovered from a nineteen-month illness with typhoid fever and complications.

Seeks $25,000 Damages From Railroad Company

Damages in the sum of $25,000 are asked by Fannie Friedman in a suit filed in the District Supreme Court against the Washington, Baltimore, and Annapolis Electric Railroad Company for injuries received in a collision between two cars at Fifteenth and H streets northwest on February 15. A suit for $20,000 damages has been filed against William H. Simpson, a dairyman, by Catherine Reddington, five years old, through Mary Reddington. It is alleged that the child was knocked down by a milk wagon on April 5, 1911.

Attorneys James A. O'Shea and John I. Sacks are the counsel for both plaintiffs.

CAFE REPUBLIQUE EXITS AT MIDNIGHT

Court Permits Receivers To Keep Open Another Day To Dispose of Stock.

Justice Stafford authorized the receivers in charge of the Cafe Republic to keep the place open till midnight tonight in order to dispose of about $200 worth of provisions, if possible. Under the order of the court, signed yesterday, the cafe was to have been closed permanently last night, but the receivers asked for permission to do business one day more.

The Columbia Cafe Company, which conducted the cafe, was adjudged in bankruptcy recently, and Walter A. Johnston and Fred H. Geyer were appointed receivers. The receivers have been running the cafe for three weeks, but informed the court yesterday that they were losing money.

Only One More Payment At Pension Agency Here

About $450,000 in pensions was paid to 5,000 veterans of the Mexican and civil wars living in Washington yesterday. This is the third payment of the present year, and the next to the last to be paid in the District under the old system of pension advances, which were abolished at the last session of Congress after a bitter struggle.

The last payment in the District will be made on September 4 next, and the agency will cease to exist on January 31, 1913.

SMALLER CURRENCY WILL SOON BE IN CIRCULATION HERE

Treasury Department to Pass
Upon Designs For New Bills.

The country will be using bills of smaller size before a great while. This question has been discussed on one side and down the other for a long while. Some have supposed that legislation was necessary, but this is a mistake. No new law is needed, and Secretary MacVeagh is going ahead in the direction of the establishment of a currency of smaller and more convenient size.

Progress is halted by the fact that the Treasury Department has not yet come to a conclusion as to the designs of the new bills. This makes it impossible to get out the plates. Secretary MacVeagh is giving the subject consideration, and the probable conclusion of the matter will be to adopt designs that are substantially like the present bills on the face, but on the backs are more artistic. Mr. MacVeagh believes the currency ought to be made more artistic, and the efforts to improve in this direction will probably be confined to the backs of the notes. One suggestion too, is to omit numerals showing the denomination from the backs of the notes. It is argued this would bring about uniformity in methods of counting money, would lessen the danger of counterfeiting, and would make a handsome lot of bills.

The present currency is about 3 by 7 1/4 inches. It is proposed to reduce the size to about 2 1/2 by 6 1/4. This smaller size greatly improves the appearance of the note. Moreover, it would cost much less to get out the bills of smaller size. Treasury officials have figured on it that the Government would save $1,000,000 a year by adopting the smaller sized paper currency.

Collecting Data On Road Building

To facilitate the work of the joint committee appointed to study good roads, Senator Bourne, chairman of the Senate Committee on Postoffices, has taken steps to obtain important data from each State regarding road laws and progress in road improvement. He has also sent out inquiries through the ministers and ambassadors to all foreign governments. By collecting this data in recess, the work of the committee, when it meets in December, will be much facilitated.

Drives Sallowiness from the Skin

Ladies, imperfect complexion is caused by a sluggish liver. A few days treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clear up the skin than all the beauty creams in creation. Cures constipation, unclogs the liver, cures indigestion, biliousness, and dizziness. Purely vegetable—never fails.

APPEAL FAILS TO GET EXPENSES FOR COMMERCE JUDGES

Money Not Available to Pay
Allowance Granted
By Law.

An appeal to the Comptroller of the Treasury to save the $1,500 expense account allowance to judges of the Commerce Court has failed. The Comptroller today decided that there is no money available for the payment of this expense allowance, and that, therefore, the judges cannot be paid.

In the act creating the court it was provided that in view of the fact that the court would convene in Washington and that the judges might have considerable traveling to do, that they should have an annual allowance of $1,500 each for expenses. This $1,500 each allowance was continued by the appropriation bill of 1910, but the present Congress lopped it off in its fight upon the court, and the sum was not specifically provided for. The marshal of the court asked a decision of the Comptroller as to whether or not he could pay the allowance from a lump sum for miscellaneous expenses, citing the fact that the allowance was provided in the organic act creating the court. The Comptroller held that the action of Congress in cutting off the item, showed clearly its intent, and that without a specific appropriation there was no money available. "I am not called upon to decide," the Comptroller said, "whether the judges are entitled to the sum, the only question for settlement is whether they can be paid."

Aged Woman Knocked Down by Car And Hurt

While crossing the street in front of her home this morning Miss Elizabeth Dement, sixty years old, of 612 Upshur street northwest, was knocked down by a soldier's home car and seriously injured. Her left ankle was broken and she was badly bruised on the right side of the body.

American Consul At Tsingtau Is Stricken

James C. McNally, of Pittsburgh, Pa., American consul at Tsingtau, China, has been stricken seriously ill and taken to a hospital, according to a telegram to the State Department today. The nature of his illness or whether he can obtain adequate medical attention was not stated. Mr. McNally was formerly stationed at Ghent, Belgium, and Nanking, China.

MOTORISTS START A WASHINGTON TO NASHVILLE TRIP

Automobilists Aim to Make A Record Run to The Southern Cities.

By HARRY WARD.
With Nashville, Tenn., as their objective point, Gordon R. Cowie and William Glessey, two prominent automobile dealers of this city, today are speeding over the roads between Cumberland and Wheeling. The two motorists left last night at 9 o'clock from the Munsey building, and are aiming to make a record run to the Southern city. Cowie, who is a nephew of Paymaster General Cowie, of the Navy, is at the wheel of the Cole touring car. The machine is the same one used by the pathfinders in laying out the route for the three-day reliability tour of the Automobile Club of Washington. "We intend to make but few stops en route," said Mr. Cowie before departing. "The route taken by the tourists is via Hagerstown, Cumberland, Wheeling, Zanesville, Springfield, Dayton, Louisville, Mammoth Cave, Bowling Green, and Nashville. The car is equipped with Goodyear tires."
